Discussion ended on renaming the Harmon Trust Fund 2790. The money in the fund is not restricted by a trust. Ogle would like to shorten the name to the Harmon Fund; to prevent confusion on the reporting requirements of a special revenue fund vs. a trust fund. It was decided to change the name from the Harmon Trust Fund to the Harmon Fund.

Airport Project Update – Lance Bowser:

Airport Manager Kurt Burns, Airport Board Member John Zawada, Mayor Rick Nelson, and Chief Financial Officer Dayna Ogle entered the chambers at 10:00 a.m. RPA Engineer Lance Bowser attended via ZOOM Teleconferencing.

Ogle presented Bowser's Airport Update Report. Bowser updated all present on the Instrument Approach Procedure for the Meagher County/White Sulphur Springs Airport. The approach has been drafted by the FAA. Tentatively, at this time the instrument approach can be drafted without the need of moving the powerlines. The FAA will conduct a Flight Check sometime in the Fall of 2023 before the approach will be finalized. If the drafted flight plan fails then the board will have to look at moving the powerlines. All present agreed with Bowser's to wait on addressing the obstruction until after the results of the FAA Flight Check. Bowser ended his update on the repayment of FAA Non-Primary Entitlement money loaned to Hill County Airport. The next payment in the cycle will take place in 2024.
